LOCAL & GENERAL NEWS.

ARE you one of the intellectual few?

The health of Hon. S. G. Wilder continues to improve.

HARRY BYNG is getting up a variety show for June 30th.

THERE will be no meeting of the Royal Arch Chapter this evening.

NEXT Saturday's baseball game will be between the Honolulu and Stars.

WAILANA will be through grinding for the season, in about three weeks.

S. J. LEVEY will offer to-morrow a small line of music boxes, and a small line of pictures.

THE Hawaii Baseball Club is holding a meeting at the office of the "Makanihana" this afternoon.

THREE Hawaiian youngsters were "hailed in" this morning for larceny of a guitar from a Portuguese on Nuuanu street.

"It never rains but it pours." Just look at our "events this evening," and see what a feast of entertainment is provided.

Two stray horses, a sorrel and a gray, are being held at the Electric Works until the owner or owners can for them and pay for damages committed.

PROFESSOR CANARIS will give a new programme to-night. New tricks and new exhibitions of the neuromancer's art, and not a repetition of the last show.

PALMER's string band is open for engagement for parties, dances, etc.
Application made at C. E. Williams, or Mutual telephone No. 336.

THERE was no business of importance transacted in the Legislature this morning. The usual petitions, of course. The House adjourned at mid-day, until 10 a. m. to-morrow.

FLAGS were flying all over the town yesterday, and a salute was fired at noon by the Vandalia, in celebration of the 51st anniversary of Queen Victoria's accession to the British throne.

FOUR Chinamen were found guilty of possessing opium in the Police Court, this morning, and three were fined each $50 and 6 hours' imprisonment, while the fourth got $60 and 5 days' imprisonment.

BRAIN waves of the two floating editors will float through the hall of the Debating Club this evening, at 7:30 o'clock. No collections! Everybody welcome! Come and get a shock! (Milk punches downstairs!)

JAS. STEPHENS, hack-driver, who was arrested by Mr. Sam Macy, Hack Inspector, this morning, and was reprimanded for standing where there was no stand, appears on the Police Court Record as a warning to other hackmen.

TWO of the 36 head of cattle brought from Kawaihae by the Kilauea Hou this morning, were taken away on a dory. One had been killed as it was about to die, while the other was in a dying state when landed.

S. J. LEVEY will offer at auction to-morrow, at 12 o'clock, a small invoice of beer, champagnes and wines. A good chance is offered to those who wish to replenish their sideboards, as some of the lots offered will be small ones.

HARRY CANON, hack driver of the United Carriage Co., fared rather roughly this morning. His horse and carriage bolted from the stand on King street, threw Harry out, ran over him, struck another carriage near the Station House and landed in a heap on top of a dory.

THE Myrtle Boat Club accepts the challenge from the Honolulu Boat Club senior crew, which appeared in the BULLETIN last night. And in addition the Myrtle Boat Club four oared senior crew, will pull any four oared crew from the Honolulu Boat Club a race, on the fourth of July, Spar buoy course, for $100 aside. The Honolulu's to use any boat belonging to them. This offer will remain open till Saturday 12 m.

THE SALOON? OR THE HOME?

EDITOR BULLETIN:—In considering the question now forced upon every civilized community, How can we best deal with intemperance? It is not wise to be diverted from the main question at issue by irrelevant and subordinate considerations. Reforms are chiefly advocated and brought about by those who have no personal interest in them. It is the educated, who care for the education of the illiterate; the sane, who concern themselves with the treatment of the insane; the religious, who are alarmed at the progress of immorality; the temperate, who are striving to reclaim the intemperate. It rarely happens that members of a class can, without extraordinary aid, lift themselves above the level of the class to which they belong.

In this statement of a historical fact, science cannot be rightfully accused of pragmatic self-conceit.
Moderate drinkers do not, as a class, realize the danger that they are in.
The habit of self-indulgence is in their case so strong that they are thereby disqualified from giving a sound opinion in regard to the right and wrong, the advantages and the disadvantages, of many measures advocated by promoters of the Temperance Reform.

It ought to be remembered that that form of Temperance Legislation, which is stigmatized as the Prohibition Craze of Temperance Fanatics, was originally designated, "An Act for the Suppression of Liquor Saloons." That is the kernel of this Temperance Reform, socially and politically, as matters now stand.
The turning point of the War of Secession was the abolition of the system of slavery in the United States. Abolish the liquor saloon, and the other evils that arise from the traffic in intoxicating drinks, will easily right themselves. It is the saloon, with its indulgence in the social glass that is largely instrumental in spreading intemperance and its concomitant evils.

Let people argue as they please about the Maine Law; let them shout, so that the deaf shall hear, that Prohibition does not Prohibit: the fact remains that we have removed a great temptation from the path of the young and of the weak, when we have done away with the liquor saloons. In advocating the suppression of drinking places, licensed or unlicensed, we are laboring for the extinction of what is now the deadliest enemy of the home. The people of Iowa have fought the battle of Temperance Reform in that State to a successful issue with this definite presentation of the question before the voters.
The Saloon? or, The Home? No man in this community can advocate liquor saloons as a necessity, or an advantage. They are only rightfully designated, not unjustly stig-matized, as pests and nuisances.
Abolish the saloons. Secure every safe-guard possible for the
